

ADVISORY CURRICULUM MATERIAL

Advisory periods are built into each student's schedule. The students are pulled out during this time and sent to teachers who request them, as well as, students can request to utilize resources available for additional assistance in their high school and college classes. This time is used for makeup missing work, extra instruction, one-one-one tutorials, computer access for those who do not have a computer in their home, and reading reinforcement.